788 "LINE UP" IN FOUR SERVICES

LARGE CROWD TAKES CHANCE TO ACKNOWLEDGE JESUS PUBLICLY

ABOUT ONE-THIRD REPRESENTS CONVERTS

Evangelist Scoville Introduces Innovation in Invitation Giving—10,000 Attend the Services

More than 10,000 persons saw 788 "line up" in four services in the Charles Reign Scoville evangelistic meetings yesterday.

Nearly 2,000 men, women, boys and girls attended the Sunday schools. The crowd at the morning service was estimated at 3,500, the men at the men's meeting numbered no fewer than 1,800; about 1,000 women attended the women's meeting and nearly 4,000 heard the evangelist in the evening.

The collections for the day amounted to $308.35.

Introduces Innovation.

Dr. Scoville introduced an innovation in invitation giving here. He asked consecrations, rededications and converts to "line up." He explained that all are not called converts but that his purpose was to give everybody a chance to publicly acknowledge Jesus Christ.

"We don't call these folks trail hitters," he said. "All are not converts, so we say they have 'lined up.'"

Of the 788 who went forward it is said about one-third were converts, although the local committee and evangelist will not give out the figures exact until the close of the campaign.

Local boosters say it was the greatest day in the history of religious work in Maryville. The Sunday schools made an impressive showing as they marched from their schools, flaunting banners yesterday morning. The evangelist and his workers were pleased and declared that Maryville is bound to see hundreds, probably thousands "lined up" during the meeting.

Gives First Invitation.

Dr. Scoville set his plans carefully for the first invitation. He preached on "The Child in the Kingdom" yesterday morning. His plea was for an early affiliation with the churches, but he also pleaded for everybody to publicly acknowledge Jesus often. The result was that when he extended the invitation the aisles were crowded with persons eager to take his hand.

The packed front rows were cleared out and those who "lined up" were permitted to sit. Secretaries distributed cards and the evangelist pleaded while the director led the singing of the old invitational hymns. More than 300 went forward at the first invitation.

In the men's meeting 107 men "lined up" and 40 women went forward at the women's meeting, addressed by Rev. R. U. Waldraven and Floyd F. Miles of the Scoville party.

The first man to accept Dr. Scoville's invitation was a lifelong member of one of the churches. He declared he wanted to "line up" for service. The next was a young fellow, making his first start.

Scenes Beggar Description.

Scenes at the front last night beggar description. The personal workers were busy and a large number of the more than 100 who went forward went for the first time. Tears were shed—tears of grief over memories of the past and tears of joy over the realization that some friend, brother or sister, had made the start.

Women with babies in their arms, fathers with tense, drawn faces, young men and young women, persons from all walks of life, passed down the aisle, some laughing, some crying, all apparently desperately in earnest. The old time Christians, many of them "lined up" and then went back into the crowds seeking to lead others to the front.

As the persons who went forward marched down the long aisles, others in the crowd cheered. Sometimes the cheering was not as heavy as at other times when a well known, prominent person made the start. High school boys, Normal students, business men and others were warmly applauded as they responded to the evangelist's pleas.

Preached Three Sermons.

Dr. Scoville preached three sermons during the day. His energy is the marvel of those who saw him as he spoke with constantly increasing enthusiasm. His voice was hoarse, his face distorted at times until the veins stood out like whipcords and he pulled off everything from climbing up with one foot on a chair and the other on the pulpit to dropping prostrate on the platform.

Yet his words appeared to have marked effect. The throngs listened attentively. Some who evidently did not agree with him, judging by their attitude paid him close attention. He lambasted sin, defied criticism and scored all things that counter the revival, declaring it is God's work.

He again carried his audience back and forth between laughter and tears and declared that the response to the invitations is proof that God is working in this campaign because the Christians are working. The city was full of automobiles all day yesterday. Hundreds in the crowds came from out of the city and many of those who "lined up" were out-of-town folks.

TO START TOURNEY

DR. SCOVILLE WILL PITCH THE FIRST BALL WEDNESDAY.

THIEMAN IN FORM AGAIN

Other Teams Greatly Strengthened and Determined to Carry Off First Money.

Dr. Charles Reign Scoville will pitch the first ball and officially start the big tournament which begins at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The Feds will have three good twirlers and nothing will be lacking in that line. There is no use in introducing Thieman and Grant over again. Thieman's arm is all right again and he will be used in the tournament. The other pitcher engaged by the Feds is Hansen of Omaha, who has been pitching excellent ball all season.

The other three teams — Albany, Stanberry and Clarinda—will be greatly strengthened and each team is determined to carry off first money. Stanberry has a good battery in Yaryan and Noyes, both league players. Clarinda will have Withrow of Tarkio in the backstop position. Withrow has been in the majors and is a first class catcher.

Season tickets for the tournament are on sale at Pearson's Pharmacy, Reuillard's and Sweitzer's Smoke Shop. The season tickets are $1.25. The grand stand and automobiles are free. Two games will be played each of the three afternoons.

400 ATTEND K. C. DINNER

Fifth Annual Out-of-Door Feast Enjoyable Affair—Lipf and Hassett of St. Louis Address the Crowd.

About 400 persons attended the fifth annual basket dinner, given yesterday afternoon by the Knights of Columbus at Normal Park. After the morning services at the two Catholic churches, the Knights of Columbus, their families and friends, enjoyed a dinner in the park. Ice cream, cake and other eatables were furnished by the order.

After the dinner, James Lipf of St. Louis, chairman of the State Lecture Bureau of the Knights of Columbus, addressed the assembly, taking for his subject, "Catholic Organizations." His speech was followed by an address on "The Knights of Columbus as an Order," delivered by C. P. Hassett of St. Louis, also a member of the Lecture Bureau.

Delegations of fifty persons from Burlington Junction, seventy-five persons from Parnell, attended the dinner. The Rev. Father Henry F. Niemann and the Rev. Father Stephen of Conception were the guests of honor.

300 IN BOOSTER CHORUS

Children Singing in the Streets and at Revival Delight Listeners—Appear In Solos and Choruses.

Nearly 300 children sang in the Booster Chorus at the tent-tabernacle Saturday night.

Directed by Mr. Forsythe of the Scoville party, the youngsters marched through the streets, sang songs and yelled, then went to the tent.

Dr. Scoville and the audience cheered heartily.

Blanche Hawkins, a little eight-year-old girl, made a hit with a solo. After a fetching bow she sang, without accompaniment. The crowd was delighted.

A double quartette, composed of Mabel Robey, Lucille Elliott, Lucy Kinsal, Annette Stiwalt, Mabel Raines, Evelyn Raines, Josephine Miller and Beulah McLaren, sang, followed by a quartette composed of Lucille Elliott, Lucy Kinsal, Mabel Robey and Beulah McLaren. Sterril Bishop sang a solo.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—A squad of policemen armed with riot clubs fought an angry, panicky crowd of depositors in the bank of McHill and Company this morning. The run started as soon as the doors opened. Depositors, mostly foreigners, and many women, became hysterical. Officials say the bank is solvent, but the depositors became alarmed at the numerous failures of private banks.

G. O. P. FINDS ISSUE

SECTIONALISM TO BE BATTLE CRY OF REPUBLICANS.

WHAT WON IN MAINE

W. C. Van Cleve Tells How Regional Prejudices of People Are Used to Escape Real Issues.

By W. C. VAN CLEVE.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13, 1916.

The G. O. P. has at last found an issue. The chief issue is to be sectionalism. When all other appeals fell on deaf ears, they raised the cry of sectionalism in Maine and it won. Up in Maine everything is south that is not in New England. In the days when James G. Blaine was a national character and Eugene Hale flourished in the senate, Maine was petted and pampered politically as no other state in the union. At one time Thomas B. Reed was speaker of the house, Nelson Dingley was chairman of the great committee on ways and means, and the other two members of congress were chairmen of important committees, while both Senators Frye and Hale wielded tremendous influence in the senate. Maine has only four members in congress. Shipbuilding and the raising of politicians are her chief industries.

During the last days, when the campaign seemed to be bagging at the knees, the crafty Mr. Lodge and some others determined to try the sectional dodge. They told the people the ship purchase bill passed by congress was a blow at the industries of Maine and that the revenue bill taxing big inheritances, swollen incomes and profits on munitions was designed to make the north pay for the benefits that would accrue to the balance of the country. Of course, they did not remind them that this privilege of sharing in the burdens of the government to such an honorable extent was due to the fact they had been stuffed with special favors during the period of Republican rule until they had grown fat and taxable, and that the balance of the country would gladly assume those burdens that come through the accumulation of great wealth. The taxation of wealth hits conditions and not location, but the ingenious use of this new issue had the effect of holding in line for the Republican senatorial and congressional nominees many who might have voted for the "best men." Mr. Hale, son of the former senator, was regarded as undersize senatorial timber and, under ordinary circumstances, might have been defeated by the able and more popular Senator Johnson.

Maine is a Republican state bred in the bone and dyed in the wool. The Democrats expected a licking there and they got it. They made a game fight and feel good that it was no worse. In the old days the normal Republican majority in Maine was from 30,000 up. The Democrats lose a senator and a member of congress gained through the split in the G. O. P., but the reduction of the majority on governor to 13,000 and on senator to about 9,000 shows there is a strong trend toward the administration and the democracy. Grover Cleveland was elected president when Maine went Republican by 12,500 in September, and Maine was a better barometer then than now because the great west was of much less importance. A considerable percentage of the Progressive vote cast its lot with the Democracy and a little figuring will show that a small percentage of the Progressive vote added to the Democratic vote in 1912 in several of the close states means the reelection of Woodrow Wilson.

BUSINESS GIRLS TO MEET

Mrs. Scoville Will Address Maryville Working Women at Luncheons Provided by Church Women.

Business girls of Maryville will be addressed by Mrs. Arlene Dux Scoville between the hours of 11:30 and 1 o'clock Wednesday and Thursday at the Odd Fellows' hall. Luncheons, for which no charge will be made, will be served.

There are said to be about 125 women and girls on salaries in Maryville and all, Catholic and Protestant, Jew and Gentile, are welcomed by Mrs. Scoville. The women of the Christian church will serve the luncheon Wednesday, and the Presbyterian women will serve Thursday.

Mrs. Scoville wants it understood that she does not discuss a lot of what she terms "problem stuff." She declares that too many women speakers in speaking to women handle subjects so repulsively that more harm than good is done. A study of some phases of the book of Matthew will be made and Mrs. Scoville will talk from the wealth of her experience in traveling.

S. S. GAIN 100 PER CETN

Great Increase in All Churches Due to Evangelistic Campaign — Here Are Comparative Figures.

Maryville Sunday schools made an attendance gain of 100 per cent yesterday over two weeks ago, due to the Charles Reign Scoville evangelistic campaign. The evangelist offered a prize for largest increase of attendance, and the First Methodist school won in a close struggle.

The contest will be continued next Sunday. About 2,000 attended the schools, but as one minister stated, "there are yet 4,000 or 5,000 in the city who don't go to Sunday school."

Crowds stood along the curbings watching the Sunday school delegations as they marched from their respective churches to the tent tabernacle. Walking in pairs, the little children were lined up at the head of the processions. Then according to age, the classes followed until the men walked in the rear.

Huge banners and placards were carried by many of the classes. Dr. Scoville preached on "The Child in the Kingdom" and was greatly pleased at the enthusiasm of the Sunday school folks.

The First Methodists were cheered when it was announced that they took the prize.

"Who will win next Sunday?" asked Dr. Scoville. From each section came the name of the school favored. The evangelist smiled.

"Go to it," he said. "God bless the Sunday schools."

The superintendents reported as follows:

First Methodist—Sept. 3, attendance, 235; collection, $10.18; Sept. 17, attendance, 547; collection, $25.18; gain, 342.

Christian—Sept. 3, attendance, 251; collection, $5.52; Sept. 17, attendance, 511; collection, $20.02; gain, 271.

Secretary McAdoo remained in Kansas City today and did not attend the board session in Topeka out of respect for the death of President Wilson's sister.

The board will be in St. Joseph Wednesday and Secretary McAdoo is to be one of the speakers at the Commerce club luncheon at the Robidoux hotel there.

Victory of British Flying Squadron Over Turks Near Suez Canal—Bulgarians Continue Advance.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Sept. 18.—In the official communique issued today, it tells of further Allied victories at the various fronts. London chronicles a victory for the British flying squadron over the Turks sixty-five miles east of the Suez canal, in which the Turks suffered heavy losses.

The Serbian troops smashed the second line of the Bulgarian defense in West Macedonia, taking large quantities of supplies.

On the Somme front the British captured more trenches around Thiepval and made gains in East Courcelette. The advance of the Bulgarians in the Dobrudja province continues, according to Sofia dispatches.

WILL FIGHT BOOTLEGGERS

Dr. Scoville Announces That He Will Make It "Hot" for Violators of the Liquor Laws.

Dr. Charles Reign Scoville urges any one who wants to put evidence against bootleggers in his hands. He declares that he will make it "hot" for any one he finds violating the liquor laws.

The evangelist was told that a man drunk on "bootleg booze" was staggering about the streets Saturday.

"Show me the dirty, black hearted, black legged bootlegger," he thundered, "and I will make him go some."

Dr. Scoville says that bootleggers, booze hoisters and certain others here are fighting the revival and that he proposes to fight so long as the opposition continues.

The more than 10,000 who heard him yesterday saw him in all the stunts he has pulled off in former sermons here, and some new ones. Many asked afterward if he would ever run out of new platform tricks.

While describing the death of an infidel and the infidel's confession of Christ last night, he suddenly dropped like a plummet to illustrate the infidel's fall. While picturing what would happen if a person put a foot on each of two trains going in opposite directions he climbed up, placed one foot on the top of the pulpit and one foot on a chair.

For a long period last night he sat in a chair and talked. Yesterday afternoon he whirled the chair around over his head.

The evangelist's methods are not those of other evangelists. Some who have not seen others imagine that he is like Billy Sunday. Those who know both men say Scoville is entirely different and as he is recognized as one of the three or four greatest evangelists in the world, Scoville's followers say that he is himself all the way through his sermons.

Dr. Scoville, who is past middle age, has a physique and energy that is the marvel of those who know him. He takes walks of from two to four miles daily, is careful with his eating, works on a farm for his muscle in the summer, and otherwise takes care of himself. His unlimited energy yesterday left him in apparently good condition last night at the close, although he preached all his sermons with tremendous bursts of strength.

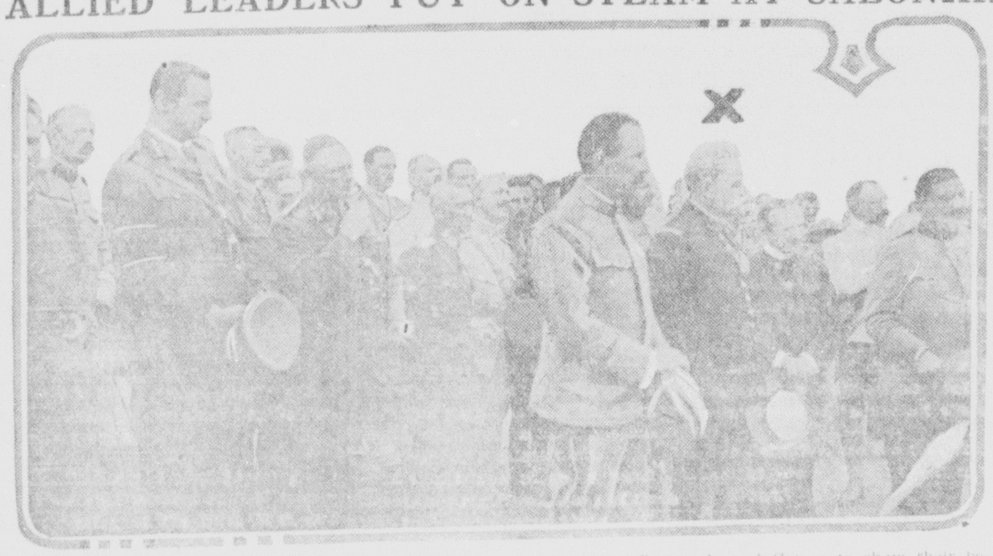
ALLIED LEADERS PUT ON STEAM AT SALONIKI



The aggressive movements around Saloniki, which forced the hand of Roumania and Greece to show their belief in the allied cause, have been led by General Sarrail of France, marked with an X in picture. On his right is General Moschopolous, Greek commander. General Milne, British, and General Bayovitch, Servian, are also shown.

DICKEY VS. REED.

Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City, candidate for United States senator on the Republican ticket, was one of the speakers at Springfield Monday at the opening of the Republican campaign. While the audience cheered loudly when Dickey was introduced, more than half of it had disappeared before he concluded his half hour discussion of the tariff issue. When Judge Lamm finished his speech about 1000 persons were in the Landers theater and Dickey could not hold the crowd with his tariff talk.

Dickey, despite the advice of his friends to discuss other issues than the tariff question, says it is the only one worth discussing in the campaign.

At the opening of the Democratic campaign in Missouri at Joplin United States Senator James A. Reed spoke to over 4,000 seated in a big tent. More than 7,000 were turned away who were unable to hear the junior senator, who is asking re-election to the senate. Senator Reed pointed out the accomplishments of the Democratic party in three years' time. He was repeatedly interrupted by cheers from the thousands who gave evidence of their approval of the Democratic program and the work of Senator Reed.

Senator Reed spoke for more than one hour and parties anxious to gain entrance to hear the senator were forced back by guards because of the great mass of people.—Webb City Register.

Mr. Hughes is an echo of T. R., and only a whisper echo at that.

The Tool of Teddy finds his campaign audiences a frigid substance he can't edge in. He is merely sharpening the axe for his own political demise.

Does Hughes favor universal, compulsory military service at all times? This is the doctrine of Roosevelt, with whom he "is in accord." Though denouncing Americans of German birth, T. R. would have his manikin adopt the German military system.

Otto Stifel, the St. Louis brewer who headed Missouri's G. O. P. delegation to the Chicago convention, was first lieutenant among Judge Lamm's backers. Stifel is the real type of Republican reactionary standpatter. He represents many "interests," including those for which Cannon, Boss Barnes, Smoot, Penrose and Murray Crane stand for.

The Wilson administration has answered the Republicans on preparedness by enacting the navy bill. Under it Uncle Sam soon will regain his place as second in naval strength, which Republicans permitted him to lose. Commerce will follow the flag. As to training an army, what have the Republicans ever done? Nothing—not even by Roosevelt in seven years as president. Incidentally, if the occasion should rise, and this is not likely so long as the present occupant remains in the White House, we will have plenty of material for officers to train volunteers when our militia gets back from the Mexican border.

REPUBLICANS DECLARE AGAINST GARDNER LAND BANK BILL

Barren of real issues in Missouri, just as they are in the nation, the state Republicans are concentrating their fire on the Gardner Land Bank Bill.

They are saying that farmers now can borrow money on land mortgages as low as five per cent interest.

This may be true in one out of a thousand cases.

The loans, too, are for short terms. Renewals will be necessary, and renewals mean fees or commissions.

Suppose there are rare and isolated instances of farmers getting money at 5 per cent. This is not 4 and 3/10 per cent, as provided for in the Gardner measure for 25 year loans.

The Gardner Land Bank Bill is designed to supply the farm with working capital—not merely to tide him over financial difficulties, but to be his building and loan association and increase his earning capacity.

Granting that one out of a thousand farmers now can borrow money at five per cent, the Republicans must admit that this was impossible, even in isolated cases, a short time ago.

What has caused the money sharks to reduce their rates to farmers, as the Republicans claim? The Rural Credits Act. Democratic legislation.

Colonel Gardner's land bank bill was passed by the Missouri legislature before the federal rural credits measure was enacted. Both are needed just as are national banks, trust companies and building and loan associations.

Do you suppose for a moment interest rates for farmers would have been reduced at all had it not been for this legislation? Certainly not.

Do you suppose for a moment the rates would remain comparatively low if there were no state or federal land banks? No.

Then you should vote for the Gardner measure for additional protection as well as more financial aid to Missouri's great agricultural classes.

The farmer should have the state as well as Uncle Sam behind him to be independent of the money changers in Wall Street temples.

PRISON DE LUXE.

Wrongdoers In Illinois to Have Modern Conveniences.

EACH CELL OUTSIDE ROOM.

New Up to Date Penitentiary For Erring Population of That State Will Cost $3,500,000—Being Built on a Tract of 2,193 Acres.

Joliet, Ill.—Prison cells de luxe—each an outside room with carefully washed air, glass roofs and all modern conveniences—get your orders in early.

That is what the state of Illinois is providing for its erring population. If there is anything in modern penal architecture that has been overlooked the authorities are anxious to know what it is.

Each cell will be an outside one, because the cell houses are to be circular in form. The new penitentiary is being built on a tract of 2,193 acres four miles from the present prison, northwest of Joliet. It is to cost $3,500,000, and the foundations of one cell house have just been laid.

The plan contemplates eight circular cell houses around a central dining hall, with which each will be connected by a corridor. Each cell house is to be 150 feet in diameter and to accommodate 250 prisoners. Every cell will be an "outside" cell, and its window will open on the walled in prison yard. Its inner front will be glassed in, making each cell a room.

In the center of the cell house will be an observation tower. In this a guard constantly will be on watch. From his position near the center of the tower he will be able to command a view of every cell in the circular building. He will keep watch through slits from a darkened interior, and the prisoners will not know which ones are under suspicion.

The roof on the cell house will be of glass. An elaborate ventilating system will be installed. The air will be washed and heated. Sunshine will reach every cell. The windows will have steel bars on the inside of the glass casement and on the outside also. To break out a convict would have to saw through both sets of bars while under constant observation.

All the cell houses will be connected with the administration building at the entrance by underground tunnels, which can be instantly closed in case of an outbreak.

On one side of the group of cell houses will be the chapel and on the other the hospital. Not far away will be the shops and between the shops and the walls the pumping plant. The dwellings of the warden and assistant warden will be outside the wall near the administration building.

LOST MEMORY AT FIRE.

After the Iroquois Disaster Simmons Forgot His Past Life.

Binghamton, N. Y.—After being given up as dead thirteen years, Milton Simmons of Kokomo, Ind., real estate dealer, has returned to his mother, Mrs. Cecilia Simmons of Syracuse.

Simmons tells a remarkable story of his loss of memory resulting from the Iroquois fire in Chicago. He was operating a spot light in the balcony when the fire broke out, and he was plunged sixty feet on to the bodies below, but was rescued. The fall caused loss of memory, and after two months in a hospital he recovered, going to Tipton, Ind., where he engaged in business and married. Later he went into the real estate business in Kokomo, where he now resides.

Increasing pressure on the brain from the injury resulted in the necessity for an operation last winter, and following this he gradually regained memory of his mother and his former life.

RELATIVES FIND GRAVE.

After a Search of Seventy-eight Years Marker Is Discovered.

Danville, Ill.—After a search of seventy-eight years by near relatives the body of Elijah Brown, who left Nashville, Tenn., in 1838 for Illinois, was found recently near Allerton, Ill.

Brown was a well known Baptist preacher in Tennessee at that time and started overland to northern Illinois with his wife and seven children, but died en route, and his body was buried by the wayside.

A marker was made for the grave, but the place was forgotten. The marble slab was broken, but the name and date of death in 1838 made identification possible.

First Fishing at Seventy-three.

Oak Hill, Kan.—After passing seventy-three years without evincing any sympathy with the fishing industry or those who related stirring yarns of fishing exploits, Mrs. R. M. King has become an enthusiastic convert to Waltonism. Mrs. King was induced to go fishing with some of her neighbors at a creek and caught three of the finny tribe before any other member of the party got a bite, and she led in the number caught during the outing.

Calf Breaks Woman's Leg.

Milton, Ore.—Mrs. J. Piepot of the Ferndale district met with a peculiar accident when visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clay, residing a mile above Milton. She was untying the rope to change the pasture for a calf when the animal ran around her, twisting the rope around her leg in such a manner that a fracture in two places resulted.

Third Ward night tonight, Fourth Ward tomorrow night, Second Ward Wednesday night and First Ward Thursday night.

The local committee has received a report that several out-of-town folks are renting rooms here that they may attend the revival.

Mrs. Scoville and Mr. Forsythe worked nearly as hard as the evangelist yesterday. Mrs. Scoville sang four solos, appearing at the morning service, the men's meeting, women's meeting and night service, besides accompanying. Forsythe sang solos at the men's meeting and women's meeting, and led the singing at the other services.

Rev. R. U. Waldraven, assistant to the evangelist, did a thousand things yesterday besides speaking to the women. There is a lot of work in every campaign that must be done to form the foundation for the results that the average person sees.

Lon D. Parker, extension secretary of the Scoville party, swung his personal workers into line last night and many were led to the front. Parker, himself, pleaded with a high school lad until after the service was closed and then led the boy forward to confession.

"I stood it as long as I could in the Third Ward, and then moved to the Fourth Ward," laughed Rev. Hale, when Rev. Cox declared that Hale fell from grace in moving.

The crowd laughed and applauded. The ministers are boosting the ward crowds and pulled off some repartee during last night's announcement period to the delight of the residents of the respective wards.

Dr. Scoville's father died three years ago yesterday. The memory saddened the evangelist, but the day brought back happy recollections of Floyd F. Miles, publicity manager, as he started to college nine years ago yesterday.

Rev. G. S. Cox and Rev. C. Emerson Miller offered prayer before Dr. Scoville preached last night.

Obituary.

Little Roland Edward Otis, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Otis, answered the death call and fell asleep in Jesus September 15, 1916.

Edward was 6 years and 11 months old, but was a bright, patient sufferer and gave joy to those around him.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Hutchison at Pickering Christian church at 1:30 o'clock, today (Saturday). Four of his boy friends acted as pallbearers.

His little form was carried to the grave under the cover of many beautiful flowers. There we committed him unto Him who said: "Suffer little children to come unto me for such is the kingdom of heaven."

Our heartfelt sympathies go out to Mr. and Mrs. Otis in this time of bereavement, and we can only say to them:

He is not dead, the child of our affection
But gone into that school.
Where he no longer needs our poor protection,
But Christ himself doth rule.
In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion.
By guardian angels led,
Safe from temptation, safe from sin's polution,
Edward lives, whom we call dead.

SAVED AFTER TWELVE DAYS LOST IN MINE

Young Pole Declares He Had Neither Food Nor Drink.

Rochester, N. Y.—Lost for twelve days in the 2,000 foot level of the Retsof salt mines, west of Genesco, Benny Nicgodowsky, twenty-one years old, was found by a rescue party apparently little the worse for his experience. He said that he had neither food nor drink during his wanderings, but physicians who examined him believed that he must have found water.

"I had been working a day and a night without sleep," said Benny. "Pretty soon I crawled away when the boss wasn't looking and went to sleep. When I woke up it was all dark and quiet, and I was scared, I bet you."

Benny, so far as could be gathered from his story, set out on the trail of his companions, but lost it somehow and got down to the No. 4 level, which had not been worked for eight years. The electric light connections had been removed long ago, and not a ray of light, even at noon, penetrated to the cavernous maze where the scared Polish boy was lost.

Benny said that for three days he had not had strength to move from the spot where the rescuers found him.

FAMILY SOON TO BE REUNITED IN COLLEGE

Mother and Daughter In Same Class; Father Will Join Them Later.

Des Moines, Ia.—When sixteen-year-old Elinor Douglas entered the freshman class of the University of Iowa this term her mother, Mrs. F. L. Douglas, wife of a Highland Park college professor, enrolled in the same class.

Together they will spend four years in Iowa City, working for their degrees, and next year, when Mr. Douglas returns to Iowa City to complete the work for his M. A. degree, the entire family will be reunited.

It is a matter of family tradition and sentiment which is responsible for mother and daughter attending college together. As the gray haired, tender eyed little woman says:

"We have always planned that when Elinor went to college I should go with her, and it has been one of Elinor's dreams that we should go back to Iowa City, where her father worked his way through by doing odd jobs for President Macbride."

OLD DOG SAVED TWO.

Collie That Was Under Sentence of Death Rescued Illinois Lads.

Danville, Ill.—Shep, a collie dog that was to have been killed because of his age, saved the sons of his master, Henry Miller, from death when they were attacked recently by an angry bull.

Jake Miller, age twenty-three, and Valentine Miller, age fifteen, still are in a serious condition of injuries inflicted by the animal, and Shep, swathed in bandages and with one leg in splints, is being cared for in the house by a veterinary.

The boys had gone for the cows and were attacked by the bull, which Shep attacked vigorously, so distracting the animal's attention from the boys, both of whom were gored and trampled, that their father was able to drive the infuriated animal away with a pitchfork before the sons were killed. The decision to kill Shep has been abandoned.

OWN PLEA SUCCESSFUL.

Man Argued His Case and His Sentence Was Reduced.

Denver.—Samuel Owens, charged with assault with intent to kill, in the westside court saved himself from a possible penitentiary sentence by addressing the jury himself in a plea which caused the jury, although finding him guilty, to reduce the conviction to that of assault.

The maximum penalty on this conviction is a year in the county jail, while the penalty for assault to kill is from one to fourteen years in the penitentiary.

Owens struck his wife, Lillian, with a revolver in their home following a quarrel. He knocked her unconscious and was arrested in the act of sewing up the wound in his wife's head with a needle and thread.

SIMPSON TO GO ABROAD

World's Champion Hurdler Chosen on American Team Decides to Make Trip—To Sweden Soon.

Bob Simpson will go to Europe. The world's champion hurdler arrived in Columbia from Bosworth yesterday afternoon and soon afterward told a Missourian reporter that he would certainly make the trip. Simpson has not yet arranged about his university credits, but will probably make some arrangement with the authorities whereby he will not lose all of the next semester's work.

Bob will leave for the east a week from tomorrow, sailing for Sweden on September 28. The meets in which Simpson, Loomis, Meredith and Murray, the American team, will take part are scheduled for October 12, 14 and 21 in the countries of Sweden, Norway and Denmark.

These four athletes were chosen by Lucien, secretary of the A. A. U., after the recent Newark meet, in which the Missouri hurdler defeated the trio of California stars in the high hurdle race. They will make the trip at the expense of the European countries, returning to the United States early in November.—Daily Missourian.

The front wheels caught and would not straighten out after he was turned around and before he could stop the car it had jumped over the curbing and hit the window.
